Read the text and complete the missing parts A-E with the clauses 1-5. Complete the table below. There is one extra clause which you do not need to use.

Canals

You won't go far in Britain without coming across a canal. The canal network in Britain covers almost 3,500 kilometres A 4. Canals are still in use and they are very much part of the British landscape. It was the Romans who introduced canals to Britain, mainly to link rivers. The road system was then under-developed so an alternative was badly needed. The first major canal was the Bridgewater canal in 1761. B 2, the Bridgewater canal was an engineering masterpiece and it had a dramatic effect on local industries: coal prices fell 60 %. The Bridgewater canal started what can be called a canal boom. In the early days, boats were pulled by horses. With a boat, it was possible for a horse to pull more than ten times what it could in a cart. Horses were used C 3. Animal lovers certainly welcomed this change because the life of a canal horse was far from easy.

The use of canals started to fall in the middle of the nineteenth century when railways started to be built. Trains were much faster, economical D 1. A whole way of life changed as canals were much more than just transport. Whole families used to live on canal boats. E 5, when many were just abandoned, canals have become popular again as tourist attractions or holiday destinations. Canal tours, with the boats a lot more comfortable today, are a great way of appreciating British history. Long may this tradition continue.

- 1 and they could just carry more things and people
- 2 named after the man who designed the whole project
- 3 until they were replaced by steam and other power sources
- 4 but most of them are concentrated in England
- 5 in spite of going through a long period of decline and neglect
- 6 when manufacturers and customers needed cheaper and quicker transport

It was raining hard that. In my hurry to get into the house, I didn't notice the black car parked across the road. I realized something was wrong when two guys rushed towards me. As I tried to open ~~the~~ door, my keys slipped out of my hand. They fell on the wet, muddy pathway. Bad guys were closer and closer. My hand was trying towards my keys, but it's been too late. I felt bull pain on the back of my head.

I opened my eyes. There was a dark room, with <sup>the</sup> only light source being ~~on~~ light bulb. I sat on the chain handcuffed to ~~it~~ <sup>him</sup>. After a hour, in to the room walked man with a briefcase. His black mask was covering his whole face. He asked me;

- Where is your father?

With confusion I answered:

- I don't know either. 126
